We can contemplate the mercy of God in the simple actions of others: the kind acceptance of our failing efforts, the comfort we receive in weakness, the encouragement to try again, the forgiveness offered out of a shared humanity, the quiet word that helps to lift a veil of depression. These merciful moments set us on our feet again. In them we are touched by that hidden presence of the Holy Spirit.
Cardinal Vincent Nichols

Outside the Church, anyone who struggles for justice, anyone who makes just demands in an unjust atmosphere, is working for the Kingdom of God. This person may not be a Christian. The Church doesn't have a monopoly on the Kingdom of God. The Kingdom of God goes beyond the borders of the Church ...

The Parish Pastoral Council
 The present Parish Pastoral Council is coming to the end of its term of office. Already we have received two nominations for the new council. We need to have a further six people from the parish. The PPC is the primary advisory body fro the priests of the parish in developing our parish community. If you would like to nominate somebody for the PPC, just ask them first and then put forward their name to the Parish Priest. We hope to have an election within the next 8 weeks. The PPC meet nine times a year.
